LABOR DAY

Committee Met Yesterday and Transacted Much Business.

Labor Day Central committee had a big meeting yesterday and transacted much business, the majority of which however was routine and detail work.

The lithographs were received and active work in the advertising campaign will begin at once.

The sum of $25 was voted to be invested in a gift for the successful candidate for Goddess of Labor.

It was also decided to request merchants to decorate their business houses and a committee was appointed to look after the matter.

The City Board of Health Decides Against Quarantining Paducah

The city board of health decided at a meeting held Saturday afternoon late not to establish a quarantine in Paducah. Mayor Yeiser and many merchants favor a quarantine, but the point was made that the city board could not quarantine as the state board had announced the day before that Kentucky should not quarantine.

There is a difference of opinion as to the state board's right to prevent a city or county from quarantining, although it is admitted that the board may say whether or not the state as a whole shall quarantine. Some contend that the state board may quarantine the whole state but that it cannot say that no part of the state may not quarantine.

The only reason that a quarantine has been advocated is that people come here from New Orleans every day, and that owing to the heat and other conditions, the fever could develop or exist here just as well as in any of the extreme southern cities, and that for 1 case of yellow fever to appear here would do the city more harm than a dozen quarantines.

There is considerable excitement reported from Fulton, and also in Mayfield, and an order was issued Saturday at Mayfield that no one could come in or go out to the colored excursions tomorrow.

A number of refugees arrived here Saturday from New Orleans. They had tickets to Fulton but were not permitted to get off the train, and had to come to Paducah.

Mayfield's Patrol Quarantine.

On account of the yellow fever situation in the southern states the following proclamation has been issued:

sued from the Mayfield board of health:

In view of the fact that yellow fever now exists in several of our southern states and the excursions on August 8 will draw many colored people from infected districts, the city board of health, assisted by the mayor and board of councilmen, do hereby prohibit the people from coming in or going to excursions from Mayfield, Ky. The board of health asks the assistance of local authorities for the above restriction. We believe the above act is for the protection and welfare of the citizens of Mayfield and surrounding community. This is to be enforced during August 7 and 8.

H. H. HUNT, City Health Officer,
Mayfield Messenger.

Fulton and Wickliffe Quarantine.

Fulton, Ky., Aug. 7.—The city board of health has quarantined against New Orleans and other cities infected with yellow fever. No chicken coops or fruit excepting lemons and oranges will be allowed to stop here. No passengers from the infected districts will be allowed to stop at Fulton. All passenger and freight cars from the south must be fumigated if permitted to stop here. Thirteen cars of refugees passed through here in one night. Wickliffe, Ky., has quarantined.

Towboats Inspected.

Evansville, Ind., Aug. 7.—The first boats to pass the local port from New Orleans since yellow fever was discovered there were the J. B. Williams and Sprague, which went up yesterday. Both boats were thoroughly inspected at Cairo, Ill., and here by health officers, but no case of fever was discovered.

TIGHTER AND TIGHTER.

Are Tennessee Towns Drawing the Lines.

The bulletin boards in the local I. C. trainmen quarters are loaded down with bulletins of quarantine.

The latest bulletin to be posted arrived this morning. It is from the Memphis superintendent's office and notifies trainmen that a strict quarantine has been established against all persons coming in and leaving Memphis. Before a person can leave or come into Memphis he must have a health certificate signed by the board of health of the city of Memphis.

This is one of the many towns to establish a quarantine during the past day or two. Many cities in Tennessee have established a strict quarantine and all persons traveling on the I. C. are cautioned to have such a certificate issued by the board of health in his local town.

Agents are instructed not to sell tickets for the south or out of the south unless a health certificate is shown by the applicant.

ANOTHER HOT SUNDAY.

Mercury Registered 99 in the Shade in Paducah.

Yesterday was one of the hottest days of the summer, as many are doubtless aware. The government thermometer registered 99 in the shade here and a great deal of suffering was reported.

About 3 a. m. a thunder storm swept over the city and for a few minutes there was a strong wind, but it did little damage. An awning at Rudy & Phillips blew up and smashed out a big window on the second floor, but did no other damage.

Today has been dark and threatening, with light showers and more predicted.

VICIOUS ROUSTER ASSAULTS MATE

Dan Sears, of the Dunbar, Seriously if Not Fatally Hurt.

Hit in the Head by Albert Wallace, a Rouser He Discharged This Morning.

LIVELY CHASE AFTER NEGRO

Officer Gus Rogers had the chase of his life this morning after a negro criminal wanted for malicious assault with intent to kill. He lost his intended "catch" however, but it was not due to the lack of energy.

This morning Albert Wallace, a negro steamboat hand, appeared at the city hall and wanted a warrant against Mate Dan Sears, of the steamer Reuben Dunbar, for striking him this morning at the wharf. Lieutenant Harlan told him the judge was not in but he might procure the warrant if he returned later.

This was the last seen or heard of Wallace until a telephone message to headquarters announced that Wallace had gone to the boat and assaulted the mate with a brick and nearly killed him.

Mate Sears, of the Dunbar, was standing on the lower deck of the boat when hit in the head by the large rock thrown by Wallace. Wallace, who was a deckhand on the boat, had trouble with the negro this morning. The negro slipped off and came up town, while he was supposed to be working. He was fired and put off the boat, by the mate. A little later the negro was seen to slip up behind the mate to hit him, and called to Mr. Sears to look out. Mr. Sears turned to see what the trouble was and the negro threw the stone, catching the mate on the left side of the head and on the left eye.

A dangerous gash was cut to the skull, and the eye, it is thought, will be impossible to save. Dr. Robertson attended the injured man and had him removed to Riverside hospital, where it was found that he was suffering from concussion of the brain. The skull was not fractured but Mr. Sears is seriously if not fatally injured. Wallace is known as a bad negro all along the river. He got on the boat as deckhand at Nashville, Tenn., and no trouble was had with him until this morning.

When Wallace was put off the boat he swore he would get even with the mate for firing him and walked up the levee, where he picked up the rock, then returned to the Dunbar without being noticed by anyone until he started to hit the mate.

Officer Rogers, after the report of the assault was received, spied Wallace near the Dogwood factory and up about the Conhankus Manufacturing company. He fired five times and thinks he hit the negro once but the negro showed no signs of having been wounded.

He managed to elude the officer after this but a detail of four officers, Detective Moore and Officers Austin, Alexander and Singery, was sent to the lower end of town to aid in the chase. The fugitive finally made his escape but the city is being well watched and he will probably be in custody before night.

Think Local Attorneys of Auditor's Agent.

Attorney L. K. Taylor, of Taylor & Lucas, the latter auditor's agent, thinks the decision of attorney general of the state relative to the employment of attorneys to bring suits, etc., for auditor's agents, will be a good thing for the auditor's agents.

Attorney General Hays has just decided that the only attorney who has authority to bring suits for the auditor's agent and prosecute them in courts is the county attorney and that he is entitled to receive the proper fees for it.

Local attorneys disagree on this, some thinking that the auditor's agent may employ whomever he pleases so long as he pays the cost
